The screenshot displays an email client interface. At the top, there is a 'Pause' button and a progress bar indicating '25 emails remaining'. A yellow starburst badge in the top right corner shows '375 points'. Below the progress bar is a toolbar with icons for 'Reply', 'Reply All', 'Forward', 'Label', 'Boomerang', 'Skip', 'Archive', and 'Delete'. A yellow timer box on the left shows '1 : 02' with 'min' and 'sec' labels. The main content area features a news article titled 'NEWS: ZuluTime Issued Patent for Groundbreaking "Location Aware" Wireless Networks'. The article includes the ZuluTime logo and a summary of the patent. The email header shows it is from 'MobilityWire' to 'tips@webworkerdaily.com' dated Tuesday, April 12, 2011 at 2:40PM.

 Kate Bennet Encourage universal use of email signatures Many people in DWP do not have email signatures. If the email recipient wishes to ring them they are then required to look them up in the staff directory; a waste of time that is sometimes futile as the directory is not always up to date.	94.05	▲ 0.00 (0.00%)	0	3,313,544	 buy/sell
 Paul Beattie Link to Google Maps (Street View) Now that Google has most of the country covered with its Street View images. It would be very useful to have somewhere on the intranet a list of all offices with a Google Map link, which can then be viewed in Street View.	87.34	▲ 0.00 (0.00%)	0	2,575,105	 buy/sell
